

As it should be every day

On one round hill
In Stockport Town,
It really is a thrill,
To make the streets our own,

To rid them of the motors
That litter every street.
They'll look like those old photos
Of people just with feet.

Some walk or come here on the bus
From towns both near and far
Or travel on a train like us
To A Day in Town Without My Car.

© Chris Eldridge, Bredbury